

CULTURAL HINTS

A good fungicide for many orchid infections is Thiram. This material is sold under several trade names one of which is TERSAN. This is a wettable powder which can be sprayed on the plants or used as a dip. We have found it particularly good on cattleyas & Phalaenopsis & often use it either as a dry powder to seal fresh cuts or as a thick paste which we daub onto infected areas. This paste applied to "soft-spot rot" in Phalaenopsis leaves stops the infection in its tracks & allows the spots to heal entirely, leaving only a normal scar. Thiram has also been very useful on seedlings and controls damp-off in community pots better than any other fungicide we've tried.

A new twist in potting with pine bark that has proven very worthwhile is to use the pieces of bark vertically. This takes a little more care & time in potting but it has several important advantages: drainage is better & more complete watering is quicker and more even, roots are practically drawn down into the pot in the cracks between the pieces, and perhaps best & most important of all, by potting with the bark arranged vertically it is possible to keep on adding more pieces of bark between other pieces until you get the bark as tight as you want it. This does away with the problem of "loose potting" in bark and ensures that your plant gets firmly rooted quickly without broken root tips, etc. This means that you can pot in pine bark just like you used to in osmunda & the plants do better in a manner that is quickly obvious. The larger the pieces of bark, the quicker and easier it is to pot so we use the larger pieces first and then fill-in with the smaller pieces to tighten up. For this reason we are now recommending our coarse grade of bark for all pots larger than 4".

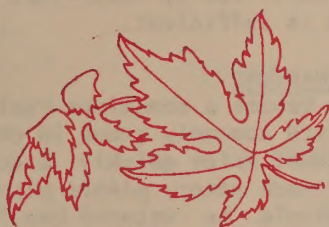

Remember: Pendant and Nobile type Dendrobiums want to dry-out during the fall months to ensure leaf-drop & proper blooming next spring. You should slow down on watering--you can stop watering completely if you maintain decent humidity conditions--as soon as bulb growth (continued on page 12)

'Hieroglifica' - Award of Merit - AM

CATALOG SUPPLY ESHAUSTED

We have completely run out of our large color catalogs. The demand in recent months has exceeded our expectations & we're completely out of catalogs. Our new '63 catalog is planned for distribution in January and you may be sure that we'll get them in the mail to you as soon as possible. Those of you who have requested them recently will be put on the mailing list for the first copies off the press and in the meantime we'll keep sending you the 'Orchid News' as well. Please bear with us--these things always take more time than seems necessary!

HAVE YOU NOTICED?

The Orchid News is now punched to fit into standard 3-hole binders. In response to your many requests we have standardized the page size and from now on all of our Orchid News & catalogs will come in this same size and punched so that you can keep them safely & in a readily usable form. We hope you are pleased with this new service and will welcome any other constructive comments you may have to make about either the Orchid News or other Fennell services. We try to serve & please you to the best of our ability & want to know how to do so better!

RING BINDERS WITH ORCHID COVERS

It may be possible for us to supply you with special plastic laminated, waterproof, binders for the Orchid News with a full color picture of Orchids on the cover. We are investigating the cost of this and expect it to run about $2.00--would you be interested? We'd like to know.

NEW VANDA HOUSE

We are just now finishing up on our new Vanda House & have already moved most of the plants into it. This is a high-light house for Vandas & other plants that prefer light of high intensity & is shaded with only 18% saran. This house measures 65' x 90' with a 20' high ridge pole. The high roof gives us extra ventilation and keeps the house from getting too hot with such intense light conditions. We have moved many of the Brassavola, Schomburgkias and some Dendrobiums in with the Vandas and their relatives and all seem to be thriving under these new conditions. If you haven't been down to visit the Orchid Jungle recently, come down soon & see this new house as well as our usual, fine Orchid Show. The latch string is always out!

RARITIES IN BLOOM

We're very proud of some of the rare plants that have been blooming recently here at the Orchid Jungle. Some we wish you could have seen are: Arachnanthera Colorful, Bc. Deese, C. Aclandiae, C. Forbesii Aurea, C. Granulosa 'Schofieldiana', C. Velutina, Chondroryncha Wendtlandii, Doritinopsis Charm, Epid. Moyobambae, Phai. Amboinense, Rodriguezia Batemanii, Renanopsis Lena Rowold, Renanthera Matutina, Trichoglottis Philippinense 'braceata', Vandachnis The Premier, Vandopsis Warocguiana.

FIRST BLOOM ON NEW SEEDLINGS

Also this spring and summer we've been blooming some of our new seedlings for the first time and have been very proud of them. Ones that pleased us particularly were #716 C. Pittiana x C. Guttata, #1032- C. Aclandiae x C. Granulosa, #861- Epid. Alatum x Diacrium Bicornutum, & Arachnanthera Colorful. We have also had some glowing reports of several others from some of our customers and it seems that our bifoliate hybrids particularly are finding much approval & even acclaim among amateur growers all over the Orchid World. (Incidentally there's a whole new batch of these fascinatingly different orchids listed at special sale prices in this folder so if you haven't yet treated yourself to some of these wonderful new orchids, right now is a good time to do so!)

HOW OFTEN SHOULD ORCHIDS BE WATERED?

No definite rule can be set down for this problem. Growing conditions vary from place to place & weather changes also effect drying out, but there are some easy hints which will help you decide.

1. Small pots dry out more quickly than do larger ones so will need water more often--every pot should be watered individually when it needs it.

2. Tightly packed osmunda holds water longer than loosely packed fiber so that two pots of the same type may not need water at the same time. Fine bark holds water longer than coarse and old bark holds it longer than new bark.

IN OSMUNDA FIBER

Most orchids should dry out bone dry between waterings--all the way thru the pot. To tell if pots are really dry, feel the sides & bottom of the pot. If they are dry all the way thru, they will feel dusty-dry and about room temperature. If the pot feels damp or clammy & cool to the touch then it is still damp inside. Each watering should be a thorough drenching.

Phalaenopsis, Cypripediums, & some botanicals prefer to be kept slightly damp all of the time and should seldom be allowed to dry out bone dry, but even these do not want to be kept really wet--just barely damp is sufficient.

IN CHARCOAL

Only Vandas & sometimes Phalaenopsis are commonly grown in charcoal. Charcoal dries quickly & does not hold much water; plants planted in it should be watered heavily almost every sunny day and under particularly hot and dry conditions twice a day might be advisable. Charcoal supplies no food whatsoever so Fenorco Plant Food should be used every other time the plants are watered. This may seem like excessive feeding but just try it and watch the plants respond.

IN BARK

Water when bark feels dry on top, and when the sides of the pot feel dusty dry. If clammy & cool, they do not need watering. At first they will need watering every day but as the bark settles it begins to hold water longer & it will not be necessary so often.

HOUSE PLANTS

ANTHURIUM ANDREANUM HYBRIDS

These waxy and long-lasting heart shaped flowers stay in bloom all the time, year around, once they reach full maturity. They are particularly well suited for growing along with orchids in the home or greenhouse--anywhere the temperature stays above 65 degrees and fairly high humidity is maintained. They thrive under African Violet growing conditions too! We have a fine stock of only the best selected reds & whites. All are blooming size--on Special Sale this fall at good bargain prices.

Small,	$8.98	Medium	$14.98
Large, fully mature			19.98

State color preference, red-white.

BROMELIAD

VRIESIA SPLENDENS - best known as the "flaming sword". This is one of the most popular house plants in Europe & fast growing in popularity here too! The foliage is extremely handsome all the year with its dark maroon bars transversing the bright green leaves--when in bloom, the red & yellow sword rises upright from the center of the plant and lasts in beauty for 2-3 months. Blooms year after year from the same growth. Special Sale Prices.

Almost mature	$ 7.98
Blooming size	11.98

SHINGLE PLANT

This unusual foliage plant always causes a lot of comment from visitors here at the Jungle as it is so rare that few have ever seen it before. It is a climbing vine that produces a double row of large flat, almost round, leaves, opposite and alternate to each other along the main stem, & so closely set and overlapping that the pattern gives it the common name of "shingle plant". It is so rare we have been unable to determine the correct botanical name but suspect it belongs to the Monstera family. It grows best on a totem pole & makes a fine house plant. Now for the 1st time, we have rooted cuttings to sell--leaves from 4 to 6" across--cuttings 1 foot long, shipped bare-root in plastic bags for the Special Introductory Sale Price of only $2.98

HOUSE PLANT COLLECTION

One each of these fine house plants--smaller sizes--good companions for orchids--A value of $19.94 for the Special Fall Sale Price of only $14.95

LAVENDAR HYBRIDS

Always the most popular of all orchids, these hybrids range in color from regular orchid-lavendar shades to dark lavendar-purples--labeled as to name or cross. A wonderful way to add to your collection at Low Bargain Prices. Now on sale for only $6.98 each

FANCY DARK HYBRIDS

Modern hybrids of finest parentage from the world's foremost hybridizers. Mostly Laelio-cattleyas, with large and fancy flowers of fine shape & strong color. Build up the quality of your collection with these outstanding bargains! Each correctly labeled. Regularly priced from $25.00 and up. Now on sale at only $14.98 each

UNLABELED CATTLEYS

These are large flowered plants of the regular corsage type cattleyas from which we have lost the labels-almost all are hybrids and the flower quality will average just as high as on any of the ones listed above. These are a real buy for you at the Low Fall Sale Price of only $5.98

BIFOLIATE CATTLEYS

BRONZES & EXOTICS

Strong, 3 & 4 bulb front divisions of some of our rarest and most unusual cattleyas--cluster type hybrids that produce medium to large flowers, 4 to 10 or more per stem. Colors range from yellow or chartreuse through peach, orange, bronzes and browns to coppery-reds and wine tones. Plants are tall & slender-cane stem types. Regular prices are in the $25.00 to $35.00 range, yet these rare & much sought after collectors items are now on sale, postpaid and correctly labeled for only $16.98 each

LAVENDARS & ROSY PURPLES

These hybrids of C. Bowringiana, & Lodgesii are the most prolific of all cattleyas. They produce large & lovely clusters of medium sized flowers up to 12 and 15 on a stem & they are extremely vigorous too! Colors are mostly dark & vivid with some rich rosy tones mixed in. We are offering them, labeled individually, at the low price of only $8.98

UNLABELED BIFOLIATE HYBRIDS

We know that these are cluster type hybrids by their bifoliate leaf growth but we've lost the labels from these plants so our loss is your gain and you stand to get some wonderful values from these at the ridiculously low Fall Sale Price of only $5.49

Pot'em yourself kits are a wonderful bargain buy! They save you money two ways - - -

First you save on the price of the plant. These divisions are priced at only 1/2 to 2/3 of their regular potted price & second we send them to you postpaid so that you save on the shipping costs too!

GOLDEN YELLOW

#645-Bc.Daffodil x Blc.Geri Sparks
 Pure golden yellows with little or no other color even in the lip are expected. 4 to 5" in diameter of good full shape, fine substance and terrific lasting qualities. Previous hybrids of Daffodil have been wonderful spring blooming pot-plants, of vigorous growth, freely branching & extremely floriferous. Only 6 packets to sell--we've already planted the rest. Pkt. $15.00

BRONZE-MAHOGANY BIFOLIATES

#546-C.Pittiana 'Fennells' HCC AOS
 x Lc.Issy.

Our recently awarded Pittiana of intense mulberry coloration crossed with a rich mahogany hued Issy should produce large clusters of 5" flowers in the maroon to mahogany range of a heavy substance and with a highly polished waxy sheen. Lip brilliant crimson purple. Summer. Pkt. $10.00

#647-Lc.Issy x Lc.Issy.

More of this very popular mahogany colored bifoliate--lip is intense royal purple & velvety, contrasting strongly in a very stunning way with the waxed sheen of the rich mahogany sepals & petals. Some may be heavily spotted red on the mahogany, inherited from the Guttata grand-parent. Pkt.$10.00

RICH PURPLES & WINE-REDS

#648-C.Red Top Mountain x
 C.Bowringiana 'Orchid Jungle'
 The first parent is one of our favorite bifoliate--stronger & sturdier in growth than most, 8 to 10 flowers per stem, each 4 to 5" across of bright reddish or rosy purple with heavy substance & waxy sheen crossed with our best Bowringiana of fine full shape & dark color. Clusters of bright purples each at least 4" across for Summer and Fall should result. Pkt. $10.00

.....
 . Larger & more comprehensive seed lists are mailed out several times .
 . year to regular seed customers. If interested, write for a copy. .

#649-C.Loddegesii 'Fennell's x
 C.Superba.

Two extra fine selections of the best purple species crossed here in hopes of producing a superbifoliate of extra floriferous and extremely vigorous nature. Season various--predominating in summer. May well bloom several times a year. A few packets only. $15.00

RARE AND EXOTIC BIGENERICS

#650-Epid.Ciliare x C.Maude Kilsby

Previous Epicattleya crosses of Ciliare have been immediate sell outs as soon as flowered because of fascinating, unusual shape, with frilly, heart shaped lip like Ciliare but larger and with wider segments--also much longer lasting! Easy to grow--very floriferous--long, arching, many flowered stems. Only 3 packets. $15.00

#651-Brassavola Cordata x
 C.Guttata Leopoldii.

We have remade this cross because it turned out to be the best of its kind we've ever seen. Fast growing, early maturing, heavy flowering, blooming several times a year with large heads of exotic 3" flowers. Greens and bronzes heavily spotted with red--lip usually white, also heavily spotted red. Only 4 packets to sell. $15.00

POLYPLOID LARGE & FANCY WHITE

#652-C.St.Petersburg 'Excelsior'
 x C.General Patton VII

Our famous stud St.Pete, which has produced such fine hybrids as Snowball & Nettie Belle Robinson, used here with another large famous white--General Patton, of Bow Bells background. This is sure to produce outstanding whites combining the exceptional growth & flowering habits of the St.Pete with the fancy flower quality of the Bow Bells heritage. You can't go wrong on these proven bloodlines. $25.00

SEEDLINGS

These are fine crosses of high quality, carefully selected parentage--in quart milk bottles. Strong heavy plants, about half of plants in each bottle from 1½ to 2½" tall other half tapering on down to about 1" tall. Unless otherwise noted, each bottle contains about 100 plants. These crosses can be shipped now. We will ship in the bottle by express collect or removed from the bottle in polyethylene bags by air parcel post prepaid. Please let us know which way you prefer to have them shipped!

#1614-C.Henrietta Japhet x
 C.Bob Betts.

Bob Betts is one of the best of the proven studs in today's breeding programs--dominant for shape & substance. Crossed here with an extra fine selection of H.Japhet it should produce an exceptional white of fine growth and blooming habits, producing many flowers several times yearly. This one should win some awards at shows & is sure to be a terrific commercial cut-flower producer. 50 to 75 husky plants--each ½ to ¾" tall--well established in transplanted flasks ready to pot next spring. On Special Sale only $24.95

#1380-(C.Suavior Acquinii
 x C.Princess Royal) x C.Hybrida

A medium sized bifoliate of heavy substance, extra long-lasting quality, many to the stem and in a wide range of spotted & petal-splashed color patterns of bright amethyst-purple on pinkish-lavender should be the result of this cross. The possibilities are almost unlimited & surely very fascinating! This combination of blood lines, putting together C.intermedia 'Acquinii', C.Loddegesii & C.Guttata, is bound to produce interesting & exotic bifoliate. The 100 or more plants per bottle range in size from ½ to 1" tall. Special Sale Price $19.95

#1336-(Lc.Black Hawk x C.Gigas)
 x C.Loddegesii.

We're growing on thousands of these for our own collection because we expect this to be a fine rose-purple or dark lavender form of the extremely popular Henrietta Japhet. Like it, this cross is already proving to be an extremely vigorous grower, more than doubling in size on each new growth, & we are looking for it to be extremely floriferous, blooming several times a year with large clusters of medium sized & brightly colored flowers. 100 or more extra vigorous plants per bottle. 1" to 2½" tall only $19.95

in FLASKS

#1587-C.Pittiana 'Fennells'HCC AOS x Lc.Davis Islands. One of our best dark and richly colored, mulberry forms of Pittiana, of excellent substance and particularly well held, crossed with a large, dark & fancy Lc. of finest, full and overlapping shape, both parents are vigorous & floriferous. Should produce medium-large flowers of intense colors from mulberry and plum shades thru to port wine & royal purple tones-4 to 8 per stem--probably Fall and Winter. 150 to 200 plants per bottle, 1/2 to 1 1/4" tall on sale only $24.95

#1387-Phalaenopsis Doris x P.Doris Two of our finest selections from 3rd generation selfings of P.Doris crossed to continue this worthwhile strain-continued selection & inbreeding in the Doris line has kept this old favorite right up to the top in quality of flower and floriferous blooming habits. 50 to 75 husky plants in each bottle-a large proportion close to 2" across, tapering on down to some 1/2" plants. only $24.95

#1615-Phal.Chieftain x P.Corinne. A fine, large and bold, pure white Chieftain has been crossed here with the very fine French hybrid of Latone x Amabilis var. 'Univ. of Miami'. This Amabilis hybrid shows great potential for breeding as it produces large, heavy flowers of good shape on long and branched sprays that produce more flowers than most of our large modern whites. We think this very floriferous, branching, blooming habit should be bred back into our large, fancy modern whites which have gone about as far as they can go in every other department. The number of flowers per stem is just about the only quality left that is still open to improvement. Vigorous & husky--40 to 50 plants per bottle--plants ranging in size from 1/2 to 1 1/2" across. $17.95

Seedlings in Pots

These sturdy young plants are exciting new hybrids that will add exotic variety to your collection. They have been potted for several months, and are well established to make strong, new growth this year. Most are in os-munda fiber in 2 1/2 and 3" pots. Many will bloom within 2-3 years in these same pots before need of repotting.

C. IRIS X C. GRANULOSA

Granulosa hybrids have been some of the best bifoliate so far--flowers are large, quite a few to a stem, of good substance, long-lasting, and in an interesting range of colors. This cross between a golden orange Iris with greenish edges & the pure green form of Granulosa could well produce some outstanding greens and greenish-golds or bronzes all with the crimson lip from Iris.

3-4" tall, 2.98 ea--3 for 7.98

C. INTERMEDIA X C. GRANULOSA

This should be an unusually floriferous bifoliate with flowers of medium size in the pink to rosy purple and plum color range. Substance is bound to be heavy with a waxy texture of high sheen. Plants are tall and slender--fast growing & bid well to be a very interesting hybrid indeed.

2-3" tall, $1.98 ea--3 for $4.98
3 1/2-4 1/2" tall, 2.98 ea--3 for 7.98

LC. GOLDEN MADONNA X C. FORBESII

We have been blooming some really enthralling new crosses of Forbesii this year which confirmed our hopes for this line of breeding--colors have been exciting in the green to bronze tones with many of rich shades of greenish-gold and greenish bronze. The orange throat & lip colors predominate & make a fascinating color contrast different from other cattleyas and very attractive indeed. This cross with one of our finest large golden oranges should be exceptional.

C. GRANULOSA 'DUBUYSONIANA'

x SCHOMBURGKIA THOMPSONIANA

Here is a bigeneric novelty hybrid of terrific promise in our opinion. This combination of the fine green form of the cattleya which has produced so many fine bifoliate, with the golden yellow form of the smallest and most compact growing Schomburgkia which has a dark crimson red lip should produce really ideal Shombo-cattleyas with lots of medium sized flowers of bright green, yellow & red colors on small, compact plants which already show extreme vigor & compact nature, almost dwarf as a matter of fact. Only a few available.

PHALAENOPSIS FEDERAL MONARCH

(P. Palm Beach x P. Joanne Magale) This is one of the very finest of the new modern white Phalaenopsis. Size is tremendous, shape is perfect--round and full, substance is crisp and heavy, flowers are long lasting--in all their beauty! The most famous of all studs--P. Cast Iron Monarch, which is the 'Bow Bells of the Phalaenopsis group', is a grandparent on both sides of the pedigree and these bloodlines just can't be beat! We have a limited number of these which we're offering, to the first who order, at Special Fall Sale Prices--strong, young plants recently potted up, a few of the larger ones may bloom this winter for the first time.

RARE NOVELTY BIGENERIC HYBRIDS

Combining bloodlines of related but unusual types of orchids have produced outstanding and popular hybrids in recent years. They have so much character and exotic beauty to offer, they find treasured spots in most orchid collections. We are offering 3 such cross-which promise to produce new types of orchids sure to catch the imagination & appreciation of collectors. Try some of this exciting trend in orchid breeding.

C. GRANULOSA 'DUBUYSONIANA' x

SCHOMBURGKIA THOMSONIANA

The pure green form of this rare cattleya crossed with a golden yellow, red-lipped, miniature Schomburgkia gives us compact growing, vigorous plants that should produce graceful, branched, sprays of 3 to 4" flowers in green to yellow tones with brilliantly contrasting lips of crimson or red - long lasting & of exotic fluted & scalloped shape.

Alexander, Bow Bells, Windemere, ect.; both whites and lavender-purples are available so please specify color choice. While they last on sale at only $14.98

EPI-DIACRUM

EPID. ALATUM X DIACRUM BICORNUTUM

Two of this new bigeneric novelty cross bloomed this spring and caused a great deal of comment at the Ft. Myers Orchid Show. Flowers are 2½ to 3" across & beautifully striped with a soft rose color on a pastel pink background. Small plants carried 6 & 8 blooms & when full grown will doubtless carry 20 or 30 flowers per stem. Plant growth is extremely stocky; many plants are already branched into 2 or 3 leads & should make extremely floriferous specimens. Now bursting out of 3" pots and ready to bloom this spring. Only a few left at $8.98

These vigorous young plants are of the very finest parentage and will add variety & quality to your collection at a bargain price & best of all they'll give you flowers this year too!

GRAMMATOPHYLLUM MEASURIANUM

X CYMBIDIUM FINDLAYSONIANUM

This extremely rare hybrid is the first bigeneric crossing of Cymbidium and we are awaiting the first flowering with great anticipation. Both parents are warm growing which adds to the interest because this should give us a Cymbidium type flower, of good size, with many flowers to the stem, that will be suitable for home culture and for outdoors in the tropics. Colors in the green to bronze range with a striped or spotted pattern of dark brown or red-purple. Since none of these have bloomed as yet, it is entirely possible that you might be the first to bloom one of these. Strong & heavy plants—now in 5 and 6" pots—large enough to bloom anytime. Special Sale Price only $9.98

PHALAENOPSIS GOLDEN LOUIS

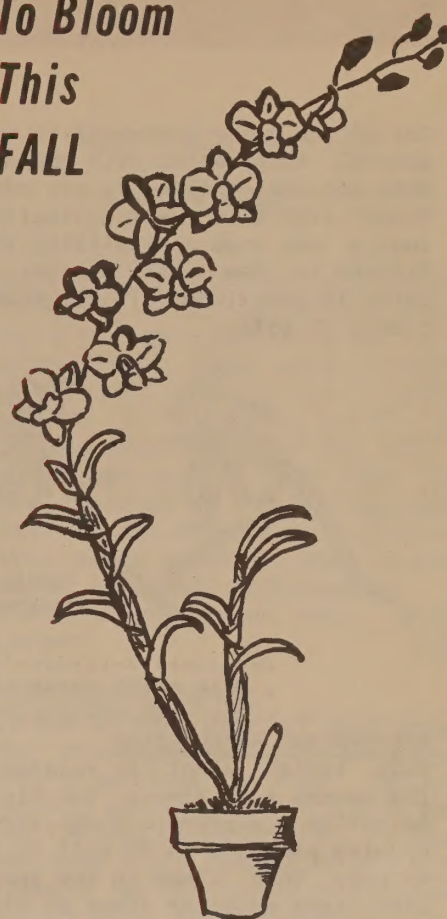

A remake of the 1st really yellow Phalaenopsis hybrid. New parents of absolute top quality were chosen and we expect this batch to out-do the original cross. Small but vigorous seedlings about 6 to 7" across from tip to tip, in 4" pots, some will bloom this spring—all by next spring. A high quality collectors item at Special Sale Prices while they last. Quantity is limited! $12.98

VANDA TATZERI

(V. Sanderiana x V. Suavis 'Broadview') A famous old hybrid remake with the finest selected parents. Vigorous young plants are starting to bloom early while still quite compact. All should bloom in the next 12 months. Flowers are flat and quite round & full—pink with rosy-brown pattern. Regularly $17.50, we are offering these at the Low Sale Price of only $12.98

MINIATURES

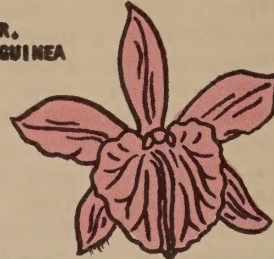

at BARGAIN PRICES

One of the newer interests in the orchid hobby is the growing fascination with the many miniature orchids. More and more collectors are adding these little 'Tom Thumb' plants to their collections & some of our customers are even specializing in them. One of our old friends in New Jersey now has over 115 different orchids in one window in her apartment--none in larger than a 3" pot!

We grow a wide selection of these plants and always have some in bloom. Ones we like best are those that have a small plant yet still produce flowers of some size or sufficient quantity to make a real show. Listed below are, in our opinion, some of the best of the miniatures--all are really pretty or cute--all mature & blooming size--all fine house plants, easy to grow and bloom--all deserve a place in your collection.

ASCOCENTRUM AMPULLACEUM

This Indian plant is related to the Vandas & is almost too big to be called a miniature. Tough; strong growing plants 6 to 8' tall in 3 & 4" pots. They bloom in the spring with tight columnar stems of flowers much like rose-purple candles growing up erectly alongside the fan of dark green leaves. Each brightly colored, round & flat flower is about dime-sized & they are carried 25 to 100 per stem. Plants often bloom with several stems at once--very showy & rare. $7.98

ASCOCENTRUM CURVIFOLIUM

This one, from the Philippines, has bright golden-orange flowers the size of your little finger nail in candle-like bunches, alongside the main stem of the plant. The deeply curved leaves are narrow & stiff. Plant looks like a seedling Vanda about 4" high and 8" to 10" across. Spring - very rare! $9.98

BROUGHTONIA SANGUINEA

Reddish colored flowers shaped like Brasso cattleyas--each about 1½ to 2" across--many on branched, arching sprays 18" above the plant and for months on end, make this one of the 'all time favorites' in this group! The plants are compact & heavy; grow well & easy to flower once they are well established, these are still fairly rare because they are so difficult to import and get started. The ones we have now we imported about a year ago & are now well rooted on cork or red wood bark slabs. $6.98

DENDROBIUM LODDEGESII

One of the smallest Dendrobs, yet produces 2" flowers in abundance. Flowers are soft lavender with a large, velvety lip of sulphur yellow and pink. Needs cool weather in fall and winter to ensure heavy blooming in the spring. Plant is very thrifty and branches freely, soon forming a real mat or ball of stems & blooms all over the plant. We are offering well branched plants ready to bloom on several stems this spring. Mounted on cork or cypress slabs--will make fancy specimens in 2 or more years--$9.98

IONOPSIS PANICULATA

Known as the 'Babies' Breath Orchid' this small plant in 2½ and 3" pots produces stems 18" to 24" tall with 35 to 100 flowers each almost as big as a dime. The delicate and lovely flowers are blush pink or almost white & last for a month or two during spring & summer. A willing grower & almost impossible to keep from blooming. $6.98

NEOFENETIA FALCATUM

This fascinating little orchid from Japan is one of the Angraec-coids & used to be called Angraecum until recently. Plants bloom well before they're 3" tall & can be counted on to bloom several times a year with 6 to 12 white flowers on each stem. As one customer remarked "these couldn't look more oriental if designed by a Japanese artist!" Small mature plants--RARE! $4.98

ONCIDIUM TRIQUETRUM

These small and heavy fan shaped plants from Jamaica bloom several times a year from the same bloom stems so don't cut stem off after blooming! Flowers dime-sized, 8 to 30 per stem, unusual shape for Oncidiums--color pattern of red or rust on yellow, cream or pinkish background. Small, mature $5.98

PHALAENOPSIS EQUESTRIIS ROSEA

This rare little Phalaenopsis will eventually grow itself out of the miniature class, but it starts blooming so small and is such a "cutie" that we usually class it in with the group. Flowers are about 1½" across, white, or blush lavender, with reddish lavender lip--stay in bloom year around with a few flowers once plant reaches a wing spread of 4" or so. When full grown will produce up to 150 or 200 flowers at a time on well branched sprays. Small plants in bud or bloom. $6.98

MINIATURE STARTER SET

Four husky little midgets of the orchid world--different colors, shapes & seasons--all easy to grow & easy to bloom--a fine beginners set to get you started right. One each of A. Ampullaceum, D. AND
COLLECTOR'S ITEMS

A varied group of rare & exciting orchids. Each is distinctly different--all produce flowers in profusion.

BLETIA PATULA

One of the best terrestrials for the hobby grower. This was the 1st tropical orchid ever bloomed in cultivation and still is extremely popular. Ours are the 3rd generation of selected & line-bred stock--flowers nearly twice as large as the wild ones--almost 3" in diameter--10 to 30 on tall erect sprays. Shaped like cattleyas--of dark, rich purple with 6 white ruffles down the center of the lip. Bloom late winter and spring--sometimes a 2nd flowering in the fall. Strong plants--large heavy bulbs.

CALANTHE FLORENCE

Once among the most popular of all orchids, these lovely terrestrials became almost extinct & only lately started to regain their well deserved popularity. Tall and gracefully arching sprays of many, long lasting flowers of red and white stay in full bloom from Jan. or Feb. thru' til April or May, put them among the most truly beautiful and worthwhile of all orchids for the amateur collector, in our opinion. Deciduous while in flower these need a decided rest from late fall until new growth starts in the spring. Strong plants with large & heavy bulbs.

Singles, $9.98 Doubles, $14.98
We also have a few small plants--barely mature--to bloom this winter on sale at $7.49

DENDROBIUM SUPERBUM 'GIGANTEUM'

Long one of the most popular of Dendrobiums, this extra fine strain of ours is extremely easy to grow & flowers heavily if dried out during fall & winter months to force leaf-drop. The large flowers (3-4" across) are produced in profusion on long pendant bulbs in March or April & last well. Rich lavenders--

PHOLIDOTA IMBRICATA

A rare collectors item from the Philippines that always causes a great deal of comment at shows and whenever in bloom. The tiny pink or cream colored flowers are produced profusely on long, gracefully arching & pendant stems which on full grown plants often reach a length of 3 feet. Flowers are tightly carried in a double row like a jeweled necklace--they last well & usually go to seed; the long stem with hundreds of little plump pods, like berries, also makes an interesting design & can be used to good effect in flower arrangements.

Small, mature plants, only $4.98
Larger 7.98

SCHOMBURGKIA CRISPA

Is one of the best of this group for home growing as it is much like a cattleya in plant size and growing conditions. Unlike some better known Schomburgkias, it does not need extra amounts of sun & it flowers on relatively short stems only 2 to 4' tall. Blooms are produced in large & tightly flowered clusters of 20 to 30--each 2" across of golden brown with a white lip. Segments are broad and deeply scalloped and ruffled along the edges. This exotic collectors item is highly recommended for all who want to add some interesting variety to their collections. Late winter-early spring--in 6 & 7" pots.
Strong, mature plants $7.98
2 lead plants 9.98
On cork slabs 8.98

VANDA LAMELLATA 'BOXALLI'

We consider this one of the most worthwhile of the Vanda species--it is relatively small in plant growth and remains so--it flowers when only 6" tall and 12 to 14" across & often blooms 3 or 4 times a year with up to 30 or more flowers per stem. Larger plants will bloom on as many as 4 stems at once. 2" flowers--red with red inside edges on lower sepals. Fragrant.

GROWING HINTS

is finished. The easiest way to tell about the end of the growing period is to watch the two leaves at the end of the bulb--when the little section of bulb between these two leaves becomes visible and plumps-up then bulb growth is finished and you can slow down or stop watering. This should be sometime in September or possibly early October. You should not resume watering again until new growth and flower buds appear in late January or February. Then you should start watering and feeding regularly again. At the same time that you start to dry them out you can also gradually increase the light given and, if possible, cooler nights down into the high 40's or low 50's will also speed up leaf drop & ensure even more flowers in the spring.

These comments do not apply to the evergreen, Phalaenopsis, & Hawaiian type Dendrobis of the American Orchid Society confirmed Tom Jr.'s appointment to Active Judge of the AOS, after his year as a probationary Judge. Tom has also been Clerk of the AOS Regional Judging in the Florida area for the past year. At about the same time the South Florida Orchid Society Awards Committee held its annual elections and Tom was elected Vice-Chairman of this group too, so he's looking forward to a busy year with orchids both at the Orchid Jungle & in the rest of the Orchid World too!

KEEP YOUR PLANTS CLEAN!

Our Fenorco Plant Spray controls all orchid pests. It's really 4 sprays in 1 bottle combining DDT, Chlorodane, Dimite, Metaldehyde & it does the whole job with just one spraying. For prevention, we recommend spraying monthly on a regular schedule during the warmer months at least--bi-monthly during cold weather should be ample. Complete instructions for use & dosage are given on the label, of course.

FEED YOUR PLANTS

A good and well balanced diet is as essential for your plants as it is for you. To get best growth and flowering, feeding must be done regularly on a schedule.

We recommend that you feed at least once a week or with every other watering (whichever comes most often) with our used at the rate of 1 teaspoonful per gallon of water. This dilute solution is perfectly safe on even the smallest seedlings but must be used regularly and often for best results.

FENORCO PLANT FOOD
